The FWG invites questions and comments from the LCIPP contributors, as time permits.

b. Advancing the Global Goal on Adaptation and Contributing to the Global Stocktake Process, Ongoing Efforts and Future Directions

The Conference of the Parties serving as the meeting of the Parties to the Paris Agreement (CMA) recognized the important role of the values, worldviews, and knowledge of Indigenous Peoples and local knowledge systems, per decisions 1/CMA5 and 2/CMA5.⁵ CMA 5 recognized the role of the LCIPP in building and reaffirmed that sustainable and just solutions to the climate crisis must be founded on meaningful and effective social dialogue and participation and called on Parties to meaningfully engage Indigenous Peoples and local communities in their climate policies and action. CMA 5 also recognized the leadership of Indigenous Peoples and local communities as stewards of nature and encouraged ethical and equitable engagement with Indigenous Peoples and local communities and application of traditional knowledge, the knowledge, wisdom, and values of Indigenous Peoples, and local knowledge systems in implementing the United Arab Emirates Framework for Global Climate Resilience.

Action: The FWG will reflect on the outcomes of the GST and GGA from COP 28 (CMA 5) and decide on ways to facilitate the effort to weave the diverse values, worldviews, and knowledge systems of Indigenous Peoples and local knowledge systems into implementing the GST and GGA-related outcomes, including into efforts under the two-year UAE-Belém work programme.

⁶ Specific, measurable, actionable, realistic, and time-bound plans.

Under this item, there will be dedicated small group discussions to engage the LCIPP contributors in the effort to plan and deliver on the remaining deliverables under the LCIPP workplan for 2022-2024.

a. Activity 1 – Annual Gathering of Knowledge Holders (Background document: information note)

Activity 1 of the LCIPP workplan 2022-2024 is about the organization of annual meetings in conjunction with the sessions of the COP, with the participation of Indigenous Peoples and Indigenous knowledge holders, to expand and enhance the inclusion of traditional knowledge of Indigenous Peoples and local knowledge systems in addressing and responding to climate change, consistent with rights-based international safeguards and cultural protocols. The LCIPP annual gatherings aim to expand and enhance the inclusion of traditional knowledge, knowledge of Indigenous Peoples, and local knowledge systems in addressing and responding to climate change, consistently with rights-based international safeguards and Indigenous Peoples' cultural protocols.

At COP 27 and COP 28 in 2022 and 2023, respectively, the Annual Gathering of Knowledge Holders took place in round-table discussion formats. Both gatherings were divided into two parts. The first part was for Indigenous Peoples, including Indigenous youth and persons of different genders, and focused on intergenerational knowledge-sharing. The second part included local communities, Indigenous Peoples, constituted bodies under the Convention and scientific bodies focused on integrating diverse knowledge systems.

Actions:

- The A1 co-leads will share lessons from the gathering convened at COP 28.
- The A1 co-leads will share plans for gathering knowledge holders at COP 29.
- The FWG will discuss and decide on the following:
 - The thematic focus of the annual gathering in 2024.
 - Ways to ensure transparency and accountability in selecting and nominating knowledge holders from the different United Nations Indigenous sociocultural regions.
 - The timeline for nominating knowledge holders from the different regions to ensure adequate time for necessary preparations, which will be subject to the availability of resources.

b. Activity 2 – Bi/Regional gatherings

Activity 2 of the LCIPP workplan 2022-2024 calls for at least two regional or bi-regional gatherings per year in 2022 and 2023, organized for and in a different United Nations Indigenous sociocultural region or United Nations region, with the direct involvement of elders, practitioners, knowledge holders, women and youth from each region in the planning and implementation.

The first-ever LCIPP biregional gathering was held for the Asia and Africa regions. The government of Chad hosted this gathering in October 2022. Subsequently, two regional gatherings were convened in October 2023 for the Arctic and Pacific regions, held in Norway and Australia respectively. All the regional gatherings applied a common framework in designing the sessions, ensuring that the unique attributes from the different regions were showcased.

The bi/regional gatherings provided inclusive and interactive spaces for Indigenous Peoples and local communities to strengthen their understanding of the UNFCCC process and explore concrete ways to contribute to the collective effort to address climate change. Similarly, the gathering allowed Parties and other relevant entities to learn from Indigenous Peoples and local communities about their reciprocal relationship with nature and ethical ways to engage their values and knowledge systems in designing and implementing climate policies and actions.

FWG members, serving as representatives of Indigenous Peoples organizations from the respective United Nations Indigenous sociocultural regions, have facilitated the nomination of funded participants from Indigenous Peoples within their regions. For transparency and accountability, the informal summary reports of these gatherings include annexes listing the regionally nominated participants.

- i. Biregional gathering for the United Nations Indigenous Sociocultural Regions of Asia and Africa (Background document: informal summary report, see document FWG/11/2024/5a)

The Government of Chad hosted the inaugural biregional gathering of the LCIPP for the United Nations Indigenous sociocultural regions of Asia and Africa, which took place in N'Djamena from October 13 to 16, 2022. The lessons learned, both logistically and substantively, provided valuable insights for the organization of subsequent LCIPP regional gatherings.

- ii. Regional gathering in the United Nations Indigenous Sociocultural Region of the Arctic (Background document: informal summary)

The Arctic Regional Gathering, hosted by the Norwegian government, was held from 2 to 5 October in the town of Girkonjárga (Kirkenes), Norway. The gathering brought together 89 knowledge holders, Party representatives, UN agency representatives, and other relevant entities. The design and delivery of the Arctic regional gathering were done in collaboration with the Arctic Council.

- iii. Regional gathering in the Pacific United Nations Indigenous Sociocultural Region (Background document: informal summary)

The Pacific Regional Gathering was convened with direct participation from Indigenous Peoples organizations from the Pacific region. It was hosted by the Government of Australia in Port Douglas, Kuku Yalanji Country. Ninety-six (96) participants, including Pacific knowledge holders (over 50 First Nations People), Party delegates, representatives from constituted bodies, NGOs, UN agencies and other stakeholders, attended the gathering. The gathering's program was designed and delivered by FWG with contributions from the Indigenous Peoples Organization of Australia.

Since 2022, the FWG deployed various strategies to implement this activity. These include assigning members as focal points and alternates for the different constituted bodies, participating in the meetings and mandated events of relevant bodies and work programmes, and serving specialized roles in the bodies' expert and thematic groups. Furthermore, the FWG has facilitated the inclusion of Indigenous experts in the meetings and activities of these bodies.

i. Activity 9 – Communications (Background document: revised ODP)

Activity 9 of the LCIPP workplan 2022-2024 is dedicated to identifying diverse communication channels beyond the LCIPP web portal to facilitate the exchange of experiences and best practices.

Recognizing that the transmission of Indigenous Peoples' worldviews, values, and knowledge—as well as local knowledge systems—goes beyond traditional written communication, the FWG has adopted a variety of modalities for exchanging information, knowledge, and experience. These include small group discussions during meetings, LCIPP regional gatherings, and intersessional informal contributors' briefings. Furthermore, the FWG has incorporated photos and music playlists into its meetings, weaving together diverse values, worldviews, and practices through multiple communication channels and formats.

LCIPP dedicated web portal

In line with decision 2/CP.24, paragraph 21, the secretariat with the support of the FWG developed a dedicated LCIPP web portal. This web portal was created to make the work of the LCIPP widely accessible. It offers a platform for Indigenous Peoples, local communities, Parties, and other relevant entities to share and promote their efforts to address climate change.

Indigenous Peoples can connect with their regionally nominated representative through the portal's regional pages. These pages also provide Indigenous Peoples organizations a platform to exchange and showcase their work. Similarly, the portal also provides updated information about the Party representatives from the five UN regional groups.

During its 6th meeting, the FWG decided to have a standing agenda item in its future meetings to regularly address updates on new portal content and address any knowledge safeguard concerns.

Actions:

- The secretariat provides a brief update on the resource exchange via the web portal since the FWG's 10th meeting in November 2023.
- The FWG discusses the revised Outreach and Dissemination Plan and decides on ways to further incorporate diverse communication channels and formats, promoting ethical and equitable engagement of cultural values, worldviews, and knowledge systems of Indigenous Peoples and local knowledge systems in the UNFCCC process.

5. Enhancing the Coherence of the Actions of the Local Communities and Indigenous Peoples Platform
