The information shared and the discussions under this item will inform deliberations on subsequent FWG 14 agenda items.

a. Overview of the Baku Workplan and its Collective Approaches

COP 29 decided to continue the mandate of the FWG<sup>1</sup> and welcomed the Baku Workplan of the LCIPP for 2025-2027.<sup>2</sup>

The Baku Workplan is organized around six collective approaches, each reflecting a shared commitment to act together with a common purpose for the benefit of all. These approaches advance the LCIPP's three functions and the FWG vision in complementary ways. See Annex I for the Baku Workplan of the Local Communities and Indigenous Peoples Platform (2025-2027).

This agenda sub-item provides FWG 14 participants with an overview of the Baku Workplan and the progress made since FWG 13 in implementing mandated activities and delivering outputs toward the desired outcomes under each collective approach.

Identification of gaps, opportunities, and partnerships for weaving the values and worldviews of Indigenous Peoples and lived experiences of local communities into the UNFCCC process

Building on the progress in implementing the Collective Approaches, the FWG will discuss gaps and collaborative opportunities to accelerate the delivery of mandated work, weaving the values and worldviews of Indigenous Peoples, as well as the lived experiences and innovations of local communities, into the UNFCCC process for the benefit of all. Table 1 below summarizes gaps and opportunities for advancing the Baku Workplan implementation.

4. Strategic collaborations with bodies and processes within and beyond the UNFCCC

The LCIPP was established to enhance the engagement of Indigenous Peoples and local communities in the UNFCCC process. COP 24 established the FWG to facilitate the implementation of the LCIPP's functions and encouraged it to collaborate with other bodies under and outside the Convention (decision 2/CP.24, paragraph 20). In line with this mandate, the FWG has included a dedicated agenda item at its biannual meetings to engage with key bodies and processes.

For its 14th meeting in Belém, the FWG invited relevant experts to share insights and participate in interactive dialogue with the LCIPP community on the final list of potential indicators developed under the UAE-Belém work programme on indicators,<sup>3</sup> taking into account the diverse worldviews and values of Indigenous Peoples and place-based knowledge systems of local communities,<sup>4</sup> and work under the United Arab Emirates Just Transition Work Programme.

a. Collaborations with UNFCCC bodies and work programmes

Experts engaged in the development of the final list of potential indicators, as referred to above, and in the work of the UAE Just Transition Work Programme are invited to share opportunities for collaboration in viewing and understanding relevant concepts (e.g., cultural heritage, knowledge systems, stewardship with nature, just transition) through the lens of diverse worldviews and values for the well-being of present and future generations.

CMA 5 decided that the UAE Framework for the Global Climate Resilience should be inclusive in terms of adaptation approaches and take into account the worldviews and values of Indigenous Peoples. How does the list of indicators reflect that mandate?

Similarly, under the just transition work programme, how are peoples and communities most affected by transitions, and who often hold diverse place-based knowledge, being involved to ensure effective and equitable outcomes?

In this context, representatives invited to take the floor include:

- Global Goal on Adaptation<sup>5</sup>
- United Arab Emirates Just Transition Work Programme<sup>6</sup>

b. Collaborations with relevant bodies and processes external to the UNFCCC

The FWG has invited a representative from the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC) to share relevant work and highlight collaborative opportunities, including in the context of the IPCC 2026 workshop on engaging diverse knowledge systems.<sup>7</sup>

The FWG has also received expressions of interest from the Philippines' National Commission on Indigenous Peoples and Global Alliance of Territorial Communities to participate in and contribute to the FWG 14.

Representatives invited to take the floor include:

- Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change
- National Commission on Indigenous Peoples, Philippines (TBC)
- Global Alliance of Territorial Communities (TBC)

Other entities that would like to express their interest are invited to write to LCIPP@unfccc.int

Proposed Action:

The FWG will consider identifying practical collaboration opportunities to deepen ethical and equitable incorporation of diverse knowledge systems and worldviews into climate action.

5. Work related to the Collective Approaches (CA 1-6)

Under this agenda item, participants at FWG 14 will be invited to actively contribute to the implementation of the Baku Workplan. Under agenda item 3, as referred to earlier in this document, the FWG will provide an overview of the Baku Worklan, implementation progress to date, gaps, and opportunities for collaboration (see Table 1).

Agenda item 5 will convene small-group discussions to solicit views and expertise for co-designing and implementing collective approaches. The outputs from these discussions will directly inform the delivery of the mandated outputs and the desired outcomes outlined in the workplan.

The sub-items 5a to 5f will further explore how each of the Collective Approaches can be further operationalized, detailing specific activities, deliverables and outcomes, in a manner that promotes synergies both within the Baku Workplan and with key timelines and milestones under and outside the Convention. For the complete list of activities, deliverables, and desired outcomes of the Baku Workplan, see Annex II.

To highlight concrete opportunities to implement the Baku Workplan in an inclusive and collaborative way, FWG 14 participants will be invited to:

- share views on the format, compilation, and dissemination of case stories under the Baku Workplan's Collective Approaches 1.5, 2.5, and 3.6; and
- invite input to the development of a draft ethics protocol for sharing diverse knowledge systems and practices, with the free, prior and informed consent of knowledge holders and practitioners. FWG 14 participants will also be invited to propose potential themes for the LCIPP's 2026 annual theme, aligned with key timelines and milestones in their respective work.

To keep the discussions concrete, actionable and inclusive, the FWG will apply and refine its participatory working modalities, including through:

- Small Group Discussions organized around languages, these discussions foster active contributions from all participants, ensuring diverse perspectives are heard and valued.
- Informal Collaborative Reflection Sessions or the dedicated spaces for participants to reflect on agenda items discussed so far, share insights, and plan their active contributions to the upcoming discussions. These sessions will focus particularly on how participants can engage in the design and implementation of each of the Baku Workplan collective approaches.

Discussion prompts for each of the collective approaches will be shared through the FWG 14 meeting webpage.<sup>8</sup>

Proposed Actions:

The FWG may consider

- Updating the list of members serving as co-leads for each collective approach to facilitate rotations.
- Updating the list of members serving as focal points to relevant constituted bodies and work programmes.
- Seeking inputs from the contributors on the implementation of the Collective Approaches based on identified gaps, opportunities, and partnerships.

The annual theme, "Ambitious and just climate action rooted in holistic stewardship", includes the following elements:

- Ambitious aligned with the urgency and scale of the climate crisis, with a commitment to restoring balance
- Just ensuring equity, rights and resilience
- Holistic embracing oneness, bridging climate, nature, culture and wellbeing
- Stewardship-based centering care, reciprocity and responsibility across all scales

Proposed Actions:

- Consider ways to incorporate diverse values, worldviews, intergenerational wisdom and knowledge systems of Indigenous Peoples and local communities into its work;

&lt;sup>8</sup> See https://lcipp.unfccc.int/events/14th-meeting-facilitative-working-group-fwg-14-lcipp

- Focus on how such contributions can inform ambitious and just climate action and support holistic stewardship with nature.

b. Forecasting FWG engagements during COP 30

The COP and CMA recognize the crucial role of the values, worldviews, and knowledge of Indigenous Peoples, as well as local knowledge systems, in driving transformative climate action, as reflected in decisions such as 1/CP.26, 1/CMA.3, 2/CMA.5 and 14/CP.29. Both the COP and the CMA have consistently urged Parties to involve Indigenous Peoples and local communities in the design and implementation of climate actions.

To strengthen this engagement, and consistent with Collective Approach 4 of the Baku Workplan, the FWG participates in and facilitates the participation of knowledge holders in relevant meetings and forums at SB, COP, and inter-sessional events.

Under this agenda item, the FWG will review and coordinate its engagements for COP 30. Table 4: Forecast of relevant engagement opportunities for the FWG and Knowledge Holder Engagements at COP 30
