

Share your case story

Consent Page

With your consent, your case story may be published on the LCIPP Web Portal, and included in reports or other outputs of this gathering, as per the Baku Workplan of the LCIPP.

Please confirm by typing “YES” or “NO” beside each item:

- I hereby consent to having my knowledge and/or practice being featured on the LCIPP Web Portal and in relevant reports and outputs in compliance with the rights safeguards and protocols. [YES/NO]
- Is any part of your case story culturally sensitive, confidential or otherwise unsuitable for publication? [YES/NO]
- If you answered YES, please describe what information should not be published.

How would you like to be credited for this story?

Please choose one and delete the others:

- Name & community
- Community only
- Other

Name: Date: Day-Month-2026

Share your case story

You are invited to share a story in preparation for your participation in the Talanoa/Solevaka.

- You may use the case story template provided in the following slides, if helpful. The template offers a suggested structure and guiding questions to help you present your story.
- Alternatively, you are also welcome to share your story in another format. This includes written narratives, photos, videos, audio recordings, presentations, or other formats of your choice.

Please send your completed template or story to the secretariat at lcipp@unfccc.int by 7 August 2026.

Your People/Community

(name of your people/s, community or group)

Case Story Title:

Provide your story a short title that reflects the climate impact, community response, or key message.

Story shared by (name, role and/or preferred form of credit)

Region: Please specify the region of your community.

Description of community: Please share what you would like others to know about your community, your relationship with the land, waters, and environment, and the values and ways of life that are important to your peoples and communities in observing and responding to climate change.

Quote: Share a quote, local expression, or a concept from your community that reflects the values and worldviews from your story. You are welcome to share it in your own language and include a translation where possible.

Photo(s) and/or video(s):

Please include one or more photos/videos that help illustrate your story, community, knowledge and practice, or the actions you are taking. Please add captions and identify the photographer or source where appropriate.

Short description of story

Please add your story here...

For further information

Please provide additional links or resources here.

Source:

Please provide name and contact details here.